Announcement of the New Special Issue:

“Nabokov Studies in Translation”

Vol. VII (2013)

The Nabokov Online Journal is pleased to announce the preparation of the special volume on the international Nabokov scholarship in translation – to be published in 2013.

The volume will consist of articles and book reviews that have been originally written or published in the area of Nabokov Studies during the past decade in languages other than English. The idea is to bridge various branches of Nabokov studies in a dynamic and intellectually creative environment, and to allow a wider dissemination of knowledge.

The Nabokov Online Journal is going to cover the expenses related to professionally translating submissions into English. A special editorial committee will make a final selection of articles based on the following criteria: the quality of the original publication; the topic; the availability of a suitable translator.

The languages we will consider translating from include (but are not limited to): Arabic, Chinese, Finnish, French, German, Hebrew, Italian, Japanese, Korean, Persian, Portuguese, Russian, Spanish, and Swedish.

Please address your inquiries and submit recommendations or articles directly to the Editor.
